Unrest in India Manifests Itself in Unusual Scenes and Further Arrests of Leaders

BOMBING OF HOMES BEGINS

Rioting Breaks Out in Bengal in Which Ninety Persons are Injured, Including Police

(Associated Press)

BOMBAY, May 16.—Two women today held in their hands the destinies of millions of India's native population. They are Madame Sarojini and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Kamaladevi Chattopadhyaya, leaders of Mahatma Gandhi's civil resistance movement.

Madame Naidu spent her day sitting in the hot and dusty Dharamasala road until, in a truck with the police, she and her sister-in-law were taken to the police station. Their patience exhausted after hours of vigil in the blistering Indian sun, police today arrested and then released Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, new leader of the civil disobedience campaign in succession to Mahatma Gandhi and Abbas Tyabji.

The police action thwarted the first attempt of Indian Nationalists to raid the Government salt depots at Dharamasala. Mrs. Naidu was withdrawn by police from the cordons they had drawn.

"Flour and fish, salted, smoked or pickled—British preference, free. Foreign at general tariff rates."

Primate of England Appeals for Prayers On Behalf of India

(Canadian Press Cable)
LONDON, May 16.—The Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of England, has issued an appeal for the prayers of the people on behalf of India "that violence may be restrained, misunderstanding removed, fears allayed, good will restored and that East and West may be drawn together in common service for the welfare of the people of India. It seems to be peculiarly fitting," he said, "that such prayers should be offered on Rogation Sunday (May 25) and on the following Rogation days. Days appointed for intercession on behalf of the needs of our land and Empire. I trust, therefore, that on those special days, as at other times, there may be prayers in all the churches."

SECOND NEW COAST SHIP IS IN PORT

Princess Joan Makes Voyage From Govan on Clyde With Capt. W. Thompson on Bridge

IS SISTER CRAFT OF PRINCESS ELIZABETH

Terminating a smooth 9,800-mile voyage from Govan, on the Clyde, the new Princess Joan, sister ship to the Princess Elizabeth, arrived at William Head quarantine station in command of Captain William Thompson, at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and berthed at the Belleville Street docks two hours later.

To meet the latest addition to the B.C. Coast Service fleet, the Pacific Salvage Company's Salvage King left the inner harbor at 10 o'clock, carrying C.P.R. officials and local business men.

The fifty-five minutes later she greeted the trim 8,150-ton Princess Joan with three sharp blasts, which were answered by three deep-throated ones. Captain J. W. Thompson hoisted aboard his small steam yacht Cruiser at 11:05 o'clock, and added his salute as he cut across the Joan's bow.

It was then that those aboard the Salvage King transferred to the passenger vessel to greet her captain and explore her interior. At 11:30 o'clock the Joan weighed anchor.

PRICE CONTROL CRITICIZED BY MR. BALDWIN

By THOMAS T. CHAMPTION
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, May 16.—Former Premier the Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin might lead a revolution.

He said so tonight in addressing his constituents at Albert Hall.

He was telling of the Government's appointment of a body to investigate prices, where necessary, of food, fuel and clothing.

He argues that standardized prices meant lowered quality and limitation of choice. He instanced the standardization of tea which people had to use in the war days, a blend which even the most ardent patriots could not swallow without a grumble.

"People do not like standard blends," said Mr. Baldwin. "If anyone tried to make me smoke a standard blend of tobacco I might lead a revolution."

REASONED ARGUMENT

But the Conservative leader's address was not all jocular. He advanced a reasoned argument against price control.

GENERAL DAWES MAY LEAVE LONDON POST

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Official and political Washington learned with surprise today that President Hoover expects Ambassador Dawes to return soon from his London post. It was indicated that Secretary Stimson does not share that expectation for the State Department head told newspapermen after the President had confirmed the news that Mr. Dawes had not asked the department's permission to leave London and could not leave without it.

One of the rumors which spread rapidly was that Mr. Dawes was expected back to hand in his resignation. That lacked confirmation and was discredited by most of those in a position to know.

The first statement from an official source was that the general was returning to confer with the President on the London Naval Treaty.

INDEPENDENT AUDIT OF CITY AFFAIRS ASKED

Ratepayers of Vancouver Claim Persons Received Relief and Employment at Same Time

NO ARREST ORDERED IN IRELAND CASE

VANCOUVER, May 16.—Evidence that persons have received relief and employment at the same time through the city relief department is in possession of the executive of the Central Ratepayers' Association. It is stated in a letter forwarded to the City Council this morning.

With the letter went a resolution demanding an independent audit of city affairs and advocating a complete change in the method of administering relief.

Mayor W. H. Malkin today put over until Monday afternoon a meeting of the City Council everything in the nature of further action in the relief department graft situation.

RESPECTIVE OFFENCES

The Mayor said George D. Ireland, suspended head of the department, would not be ordered arrested in the meantime, though any taxpayer, who so desired, could bring information against him. The Mayor differentiated between the offence of Ireland and that of Clifton Maxwell, clerk investigator, who was arrested on a theft charge. Maxwell spent Thursday night in jail and scowled at his liberty Friday morning on $5,000 bail. The Mayor said Ireland's action was wrong, but he did not take any city money.

He probably will have an opportunity of competing in a model aircraft contest in England. Lord Wakefield of Hythe has made a donation to cover the expenses entailed on the trip.

Dirigible R-100 To Start in Few Days for Canada

(Associated Press)
LIVERPOOL, May 16.—A statement that the British dirigible R-100 would start for Canada in a few days and remain there two weeks before returning to Cardington, was made today by Flight Commander N. G. Atherton, first officer of the airship, who left for Montreal with an advance party of twelve.

The route will be by way of Cape Parawell, Greenland, and the trip is expected to take three days.

The actual day of leaving Cardington depends on weather conditions.

It is expected, said the commander, that the ship will take three days on the westbound trip. It will carry a crew of forty-eight men and a few official visitors, who will include Wing Commander R. B. Coleman, director of airship development, and Major G. H. Scott, assistant director of airship development, who will be in charge of the flight. Squadron Leader Booth will be in actual command of the ship.

FARM LOAN BOARD PLACES LARGE SUMS

Agricultural Property Advances Total $1,250,000 Within First Year of Operation in B.C.

MUCH RELIEF IN INTEREST CHARGES

During the first year's operations of the Canadian Farm Loan Board in this province there has been placed on agricultural property about one million and a quarter dollars in loans. This is information which is given by Mr. George Sangster, the provincial superintendent under the scheme.

The act has been in operation just over a year in British Columbia. Of the amount advanced to farmers Mr. Sangster says that the loans average about $3,000 each. In a great many cases the money that is being advanced is for the purpose of liquidating other mortgage loans, at which the rate of interest placed on the property is very much higher than that which is charged under the Canadian Government system.

Under the Canadian Farm Loan plan the interest charged represents about 6 1/2 per cent. Moreover, there is the feature, it is pointed out by Mr. Sangster, that the farmer is able at the end of the term for repayment to be in the situation that he has retired the mortgage, with all interest paid up. Under the former method of borrowing too often the farmer managed only to meet the interest which the mortgage carried at a very high rate and the principal was left untouched.

Mr. Sangster has just returned from a trip through the province, covering part of the Interior and the lower Mainland, where he took occasion to check up on the properties upon which money had been advanced. The greater part of the loans are on the lower Mainland, and represent the replacement of former mortgages which were held with private individuals at high rates, or were in the hands of corporations.

Saves King's Son, Man Gets Life Pension

BELOGRADE, Yugoslavia, May 16.—Prorogation today of a sentence outside the King's Summer palace saved the life of his second son, Tomislav.

The sentence on duty below the nursery window saw the child playing on a balcony, climb to the rail and fall. He dropped his rifle and dashed forward just in time to catch the infant in his arms.

King Alexander, frantic, descended rapidly and, embracing the sentinel, called the officer of the guard, instructing him to take immediate steps to produce the soldier's discharge from the army. He then presented him with 30,000 dinars (about $5,000) and arranged for a life-long pension.

Prince Is Good Samaritan To Injured Rider

LONDON, May 16.—The Prince of Wales today found time to play the Good Samaritan to an injured man while en route to Sandwich to witness the golf matches. The Prince was motor-ing to the Hendon aerodrome to take a plane for Sandwich when from his motor car he saw two men bending over an unconscious man by the roadside.

The Prince ordered his car stopped, alighted, took a cushion from the car and with the greatest care placed it under the man's head.

The Prince applied his handkerchief to the victim's bleeding face, and, only after seeing that medical help had been summoned, drove on. Witnesses said the Prince was most solicitous of the injured man's welfare. The victim had been badly smashed up in a fall off his motorcycle.

New Minister to Canada Selected By U.S. President

WASHINGTON, May 16.—A new minister to Canada has been selected by President Hoover and been declared acceptable by the Canadian government. The nomination has been held up awaiting word from Canada that he was persona grata.

TELEPHONES SILENCED BY MALCONTENTS

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, May 16.—Amused and yet somewhat perturbed, Paris awaits the next step in the threatened national strike of postal workers. Yesterday's two-hour dress rehearsal on postoffice telephones provided something of a novelty in strikes. In some districts the telephones went dead for two hours. In others the service was practically normal, and Tardieu was practically normal, and in a few districts the strikers merely added to the subscribers' customary exasperation by deliberately slowing down calls.

At Marseilles, Lille, Lyons, Rennes, Dijon and many other cities yesterday there were partial telephone and telegraph strikes, as in Paris, but an order from the Postal Workers' Union for a two-hour strike of letter carriers was not obeyed.

The strikers decided to form local and national campaign committees with a view to declaring a twenty-four hour national strike of postal workers. To meet the situation the Tardieu Government had decided to place military and postal units at the disposal of district managers.

More Protection May Be Given By Government

OTTAWA, Ont., May 16.—The Government is considering representations for more protection which have been made by representatives of Canadian fruit and vegetable growers, and there is a possibility that action with respect to them may be taken. No decision has yet been reached, but Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, now has under consideration the views expressed to him by the growers.

Just what action the Government will take, if any, remains to be seen. Changes in the proposals brought down in the budget. On the other hand, there is a suggestion that the Government may apply again the dumping duty during seasons when fresh fruit and vegetables from the United States are being sent into the Canadian market in large quantities.

Living Cost In Canada Now Lower

OTTAWA, May 16.—The cost of living in Canada, based on the retail prices of food, fuel, rent, clothing and sundries, was lower in April than in any of the past six months, although prices remained slightly higher than in the Spring of 1929. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics' index of retail prices for April shows a reduction of nearly 2 per cent since the first of the year.

The price of clothing, according to this index, is lower today than in any time since 1919, but this reduction has been offset by the fact that rents are now higher than at any other time on record. The index for forty-six food items was, however, lower than for any month since September, and the cost of fuel, lower than in any month since November, was also lower than in April last year.

Decrease in the cost of living has been general in the past few months throughout the world, according to the indexes of the various countries. Every country registered a decrease in March from the preceding month, and ten of the thirteen reporting countries show decreases in March 1930 from March 1929.

Bandit Raids and "Red" Propaganda Now Plague China

Chinese Provincial Officials Fear Brigands Will Attack Hankow and Neighboring Cities of Wuchang and Hanyang—Rebel Hordes Ravage Hunan and Hupeh Provinces

Many Tons of Russian Literature Are Seized

(Associated Press)
SHANGHAI, May 16.—Raids by bandit armies in central provinces and "Red" propaganda in southern provinces now plague China. Russian participation in Communistic activities apparently was disclosed by a raid in Amoy. Fears were expressed by Chinese provincial officials that brigands who have been savagely raiding towns within twenty miles of Hankow would attack that city and the neighboring cities of Wuchang and Hanyang, most important cities of Central China.

Bandit hordes who have been ravaging Hunan and Hupeh provinces. It was feared, were about to combine for an attack upon the tri-city, whose population is more than 1,000,000.

Reports of today's banditry came a week after dispatches announcing that 500 villages of Hunan Province north of Hupeh, had been laid waste by outlaws who "murdered, kidnapped and outraged to unknown numbers."

Other reports stated that on April 23 bandits had massacred 15,000 inhabitants in Yungtung.

Tons of Russian Communistic propaganda were seized in Amoy today in raids by foreign police in the foreign settlement. The Chinese Pukuan Province authorities believed three houses raided were the headquarters for Red activities in the province, and possible all of South China. They hoped disclosure of the Communistic plans would enable the Nationalists to take measures to suppress the depredations and wholesale slaughter which Red armies have inflicted for several months upon the populace of Fukien, Kiangsi and Kwantung provinces.

ZEPPELIN TO HALT FIRST AT SEVILLE

Will Leave Next Week in Effort to Cross Equator by Dirigible to Pernambuco

TO CARRY TWENTY ACROSS ATLANTIC

FRIDRICHSHAVEN, Germany, May 16.—The Graf Zeppelin's historic first attempt to cross the equator and reach South America by dirigible will begin Sunday some time between 4 p.m. and 9 p.m., if weather permits.

The first lap of the journey is to Seville, Spain, which the Graf expects to reach late Monday by way of Lyons, Marseilles, and Gibraltar. A mooring mast has been erected at the Spanish city, and after an all-night stay there the great ship will nose out over the Atlantic Tuesday morning for the flight to Pernambuco, Brazil.

On the first lap the Zeppelin will carry twenty-two passengers. Of these go only to Seville, where four will be taken aboard in their place, bringing the total for the transatlantic and trans-equatorial flight to twenty, besides the forty-two officers and crew.

From Pernambuco to Havana and Lakehurst, N.J., there will be nineteen passengers.

Will Not Name Minister Until After Election

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, Ont., May 16.—The Canadian minister to Washington will not be appointed until after the general election. This was stated by the Prime Minister tonight when asked concerning reports that a successor to the Hon. Vincent Massey had been decided upon.

"I think I intimated some time ago that we would not appoint a minister immediately," said Mr. Mackenzie King. "Mr. Massey will remain in Washington until the month of July, and after that will take up his duties in London as high commissioner. As a matter of fact, we have not thought of his successor yet, and, any case, no one will be appointed to the Washington legation until after the general election."

Officers to Be Chosen Today

An enjoyable banquet, attended by 175 members, including the ladies who accompanied the members of the grand council of the Royal Arcanum representative of British Columbia and Washington, opened the evening's activities of the members of that body who are in the city attending the twenty-ninth annual gathering. Following this function, the ladies of the party were escorted to the Royal Victoria Theatre, where they witnessed the Gordon McLeod English Players in their closing attraction in the city. The members of the grand council adjourned from the banquet room in the Shrine Temple to the Upper Hall, where a class of twenty-five of Victoria's young business men were initiated into the rites of the order.

Following this, and with the return of the ladies from the theatre, a dance was enjoyed for some hours, thus concluding a well-filled day.

TO ELECT OFFICERS

This morning the grand lodge will convene in the Empress Hotel, and will proceed to the election of officers. Mr. Frank G. Smith, of Portland, Ore., the deputy supreme regent, will be the installing officer. It is the expectation that Mr. Arthur Schramm, a prominent lawyer of Seattle, will be elected to the position of grand regent. It is also expected that Melville Goodrich, the local body, will be honored by the election of Mr. D. W. Spence as grand trustee.

During the evening the ladies of the party will be driven about the environs of the city, including a visit to "Benvenuto," the home and gardens of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Bulchart.

WAREHOUSE FIRE IS INVESTIGATED

Vancouver Fire Department Absolved of Blame in Delay in Reaching Scene of Blaze

VANCOUVER, May 16.—Fire, which did damage to the extent of $250,000 at the warehouse of McLennan, McFrey & Prior, Ltd., Powell Street and Woodland Drive, late last Saturday afternoon, burned at least forty-eight minutes from the time smoke was first observed until the correct alarm was given to fire headquarters. This was established this morning when Provincial Fire Marshal J. A. Thomas held an official inquiry at the Court House.

Evidence showed that the delay in registration of the alarm rose through confusion of the burned premises with the up-town warehouse of the company at 99 East Cordova. "There is absolutely no blame attachable to the fire department," declared Mr. Thomas at the conclusion of the hearing. "It is clear that a mistake was made in giving the information."

Mr. Alex Will and Mr. Larry Murphy, longshoremen, noticed what they thought was smoke coming from the warehouse at Woodland Drive during the late afternoon. They were not sure it was a fire, so instead of ringing an alarm, they telephoned police headquarters. Police headquarters at 4:50 p.m. notified the fire department that the fire was at the Cordova Street warehouse. Search of these premises failed to reveal any fire and the rigs returned to their stations.

It was not until 5:28 o'clock that the alarm was given concerning the proper location.

Two Scotchmen entered a restaurant, had a good meal, and left together.

"They always do you well here," said Sands to McNab.

"Yes, I believe you're right," said McNab, counting his change, and finding it was two shillings short. "But you might have said so before we went in."

The complete and final programme, with a list of events so diversified in character that few will find it lacking in suitable entertainment, was issued yesterday afternoon by the secretary. The details of the Central Old Boys' Reunion are not included, but will be found in the official programme of the celebration.

The sessions of the grand lodge will conclude probably about 1:30 o'clock, that any who wishes to leave the city and return home, do so on the afternoon steamer for Seattle. Most of the delegates, will stay over, however, and spend the week-end in Victoria, enjoying the attractions that are here.

At the banquet last night, held in the Shrine Temple, an elaborate programme which filled every available minute of the time at the disposal of the party was prepared by Mr. Alfred Head, the chairman of the entertainment committee.

The welcome which was extended to the visitors by Mayor Ansonbom was all the more cordial and sympathetic, in view of the fact that he was not performing this function as the mayor of the city, but also as a member of the order, who appreciated all that that organization stood for in the matter of brotherly feeling.

A feature of the evening was the toast proposed by Mr. Fred W. Willis, representing Majestic Council, to the grand council. This was replied to by Grand Regent Melvin S. Wooster.

A very interesting talk was given by Mr. Frank Smith on "Virtue, Mercy and Charity."

Mr. Frank Partridge and Dr. Johns charmed the guests with their solos.

Major Ansonbom, with a small brown paper parcel under his arm containing a large Union Jack, led Captain Thompson to the open deck aft of the smoking room and, with cordial words of welcome, presented the captain with the flag. Alderman Robert Smith, Captain R. W. McMurray, Captain Cyril D. Neufeldt, Mr. J. S. Byrom, Alderman H. O. Litchfield and Alderman W. H. Cullin formed a group about the captain and Mayor while a photograph was taken.

SEVENTEEN KNOTS

Built by the Fairfield Shipbuilding and Engineering Company, the Princess Joan was launched at Govan on February 4 by Mrs. E. M. Bircher, daughter of the late Sir Augustus Nanton. She was made ready to sail for Victoria on April 15, which speaks highly of the speed with which she was completed. On her trial she made seventeen knots, half a knot more than contract speed.

With an overall length of 365 feet, identical to the Princess Elizabeth, which arrived here on her maiden voyage on May 3, the Princess Joan is fifty-four feet in beam, 7,780 tons net, and has a mean load draft of sixteen feet. On her main deck she has accommodation for about seventy automobiles, facing an elevator at one end and a large turntable at the other.

She has four Scotch marine boilers feeding steam to her engines at a pressure of 250 pounds and has an oil capacity of 4,619 barrels, or 671 tons, in three deep tanks and two double-bottom tanks. Quarters for the engine-room staff are particularly roomy and are ventilated by a thermo-tank system, in use in all parts of the vessel.

The wireless operator's cabin contains a 100-watt continuous wave transmitter, capable of using modulated continuous waves and radio telephone service. The telephone will be operated on 198 meters and the code transmitter on 600, 700 and 800 metres. Outside, the boat deck contains eighteen large life-boats.

With berths for 431 passengers, and convertible couches, bringing the number up to about 508, the Princess Joan also has twenty-five second-class bunks and a simply-furnished but comfortable second-class lounge.

GLASSED-IN DECK

She has four large lounges in various parts of the interior, a cosy combined writing and observation room forward, oak furnished saloon room aft and a glass enclosed promenade deck amidships, of a type often seen on deep-sea vessels, and a ladies' restroom.

All stairways are outside and contain every comfort necessary for night travel. Twenty-eight of her cabins are of the de luxe variety with double beds and all the conveniences of an ultra modern hotel. The ship will enter night service to and from Vancouver with her sister Princess. All lower berths on both ships are beds.

Although it was inclined to be a bit rough at various times, the Princess Joan was well riding gracefully through both head seas and beam seas, according to Captain Thompson. The first stop made was at Las Palmas for oil, and for thirty-six hours after the ship left she bucked strong southwest winds, slowing her down to nine knots. Those aboard were surprised to find the wind southwest when they were in the northeast trades.

During the whole voyage, the ship consumed an average of twenty-five tons of oil per day, five tons less than had been figured for her requirements. The next stop was at Curacao for more oil, and it was there that extremely hot weather was encountered. The temperature rose to 105 degrees in the engine-room, and with a slow following wind very little cool air was forced down by the ventilating system.

Kept down to an average of 135 knots, the new ship's most economical speed with engines that had not been run in the sea, reached Panama, and after taking on oil left for Victoria, enjoying an uneventful voyage up the Pacific Coast.

BUYS FIRST TICKET

On Thursday the Princess Elizabeth was at Vancouver for a civic reception. A bronze shield, commemorating her maiden voyage, was presented to Captain Neroutsoe, manager of the B.C. Coast Service, by the Vancouver Harbor Commission. Mayor W. H. Malkin and Mr. K. J. Burns, port superintendent, made the standing offer of a handsome floral bouquet to the first bride who travels on the vessel.

At midnight the Elizabeth left here on her first voyage in regular service to Vancouver with a large passenger list. Mr. C. Frederick Dawson, first Victorian to purchase a ticket and stateroom, was presented with a box of cigars and photographed beside the vessel.

around the salt raiders and sent back to the Nationalist camp about a half mile away. Those of her followers who had remained within the cordon throughout the night with her then were treated similarly.

There was no such happy ending to the exploit of Mrs. Kamaladevi Chattopadhyaya, sister-in-law of Mrs. Naidu, who has been active at Bombay in furthering the civil disobedience campaign. She was arrested this morning and sentenced to nine months and two weeks' imprisonment for her salt raid in another quarter.

ILLEGAL ACTIVITIES

In removing her from the Indian political picture the police made public a long list of illegal activities attributed to her.

Grave news from various sections of India was received. Indicating strict censorship, a dispatch was made public for the first time telling of a riot at Mysenings, Bengal, Wednesday, in which ninety persons were injured, including a considerable number of police.

There was every indication the civil resistance campaign had been reframed on drastic lines at the convention of the working committee of the all-India Congress at Allahabad, where a number of stringent resolutions were adopted.

WAR COUNCIL

The "war council" of the Bombay Workers' Congress declared the proposed raid on the Wadala salt works Sunday would be carried out.

Early today the home of an officer in charge of the Howrah police was bombed while he and his family slept. The house was damaged, but the occupants escaped injury.

Civil resistance volunteers raided the Dharasana salt pans in spite of Madame Naidu's arrest. Taking 100 Hindus rubbered the pans while the police were absent. Nine persons were injured. Some of them were treated by the officers.

Madame Naidu tonight declared the authorities had been courteous to her during her arrest.

The authorities tried to dissuade her from staying in the room under such unfavorable conditions," she said, "but I said I would not go back, and so I and my followers were marched out of the cordon and asked to go away."

Commissioner Garrett, of the Northern division, was said to have told Madame Naidu, "Your place is at the round table conference, not at the salt pans."

The probable further complication today arose from the chief commissioner of Peshawar, Pandit Malaviya, Congress leader, that he and his followers must not enter Peshawar. They had been ordered to Peshawar with relief supplies for members of the Congress, who were victims of the prolonged conflict in that district recently.

It was understood in Liberal quarters today that an early move would be expected from the Government to open negotiations with Mahatma Gandhi, the imprisoned leader of the civil disobedience campaign, for settlement of the present serious political situation.

The Government also announced that measures will be taken against organizers interrupting the services, and those who participate in, any such interruption.

The workers are dissatisfied with the proposed scale of pay and want more. The Congress leaders, however, of further increases would involve an expenditure of $3,000,000, which cannot be provided under the budget which has passed Parliament.

Says Britain Should Assist Dominion in Disposal of Wheat

By THOMAS T. CHAMPTON

LONDON, May 16.—Hon. Stanley Baldwin believes Great Britain should help Canada in the disposal of her wheat. He told women Conservatives this tonight when he addressed them in Albert Hall, and touched on agriculture.

Mr. Baldwin pointed to the huge production of wheat in Canada's Western Provinces.

"Where the great British democracy is growing in wealth and power daily," he exclaimed, "where the provinces have a population keen, loyal and democratic, where the population in a generation or so will be counted in tens of millions, there is the place to which our aid must go. We must help Canada in the disposal of her wheat."

BRITISH FARMERS' VISIT ARRANGED TO BRING PARTY HERE SEPT. 17 AND 18

Will Be Managed by British National Union, Which Promotes Empire Travel

The British farmers' tour of Canada, under the auspices of the British National Union, has planned its itinerary to arrive in Victoria on Wednesday, September 17.

There will be a drive to the Observatory and the Benvenuto Gardens, and by ferry the party will go to the Malahat Drive, returning to Victoria, leaving the delegates free for the afternoon. The party will leave by the afternoon steamer next day for Vancouver.

The British National Union has for its object the fostering of intercourse between the people of the British Isles and the Dominions, and in this connection has promoted five previous tours, one of which is in progress now, that of Empire farmers to New Zealand and Australia.

The tour which will visit here will leave Liverpool on August 23, and is due back at Southampton on October 7.

Validity of Treaty Will Be Attacked

TORONTO, Ont., May 16.—According to a notice of appeal filed yesterday in behalf of the Attorney-General of Ontario, the validity of the Robinson Treaty, of September 7, 1850, between the Government of Upper Canada and the Indians with regard to the latter's fishing and hunting rights, will be questioned before the appellate division at Osgoode Hall.

The Crown is appealing a judgment of Hon. Judge McKay, of the district of Thunder Bay, on April 15 last, quashing conviction registered against Joe Padjuna and Paul Quessawa, Indians, of White Lake, Ontario, for trespassing on the land in their possession beaver pelts contrary to the Ontario Game and Fish-eries Act.

The Crown says that Judge McKay was wrong in holding that the Game and Fisheries Act does not apply to Indians.

"Could you give a poor fellow a bite?" asked the dust-stained tramp. "I don't bite, myself," answered the lady of the house, "but I'll call the dog."

Always with Cold Meat

"No, I was out of school for months. Guess my nerves got the start of me.

"Well, it didn't take so long once I got using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Every week I felt better and now I am in the pink of condition and have got back my normal weight.

SHIPMENT OF JERSEY BULLS LEAVE ISLAND

Mr. J. B. Munro, Deputy Minister of Agriculture,
Comments on Sale to Alberta

BURNS' PURCHASE A HOPEFUL SIGN

The first shipment of Jersey bulls purchased by Burns & Co. left Victoria last Wednesday for Alberta,
where Burns have formed bull rings
among the farmers shipping to their numerous creameries throughout the prairie province.
Expert cattlemen are congratulating Burns & Co. on their far-sighted policy in the importation of this shipment from gold and silver medal
cows. One, Pedro La France, world's champion, La France's Princess, with a world's record in both milk and butter fat, giving 14,481 pounds of milk and 729 pounds of fat. This bull was bred by Dr. Olson, of Duncan, the sire being Pedro of Beauchamp, out of the imported cow Sixty-Six (straight Island breeding). Another bull from Duncan was Mr. E. C.
Hawkins' herd sire Glamorgan Financier Beau. As his name indicates, he is by Golden Fern's
Financier, a son of Golden Fern's
Noble, and out of Pusana Mount,
a high producing cow with a good
two-year-old record.
Another promising bull selected
was Babbarcombe Brights Raleigh,
a son of Brampton Draconis, the cow that, in the Babbarcombe herd, made six consecutive records with a total of 32,889 pounds of milk and 2,889 pounds of butter fat, the sire
being Glamorgan Farm Nehalem,
who is also the sire of a silver medal
cow and several cows with good R.O.P. records. This bull, Babbar-combe Brights Raleigh, was in service at the Dominion Experimental Farm at Sidney for two years, and they are now using a son as their present herd sire. The purchase was made from Mr. E. P. Ashe, of

Earl of Derby Reaches U.S. for Big Race

THE photograph here shows the Earl of Derby being greeted at New York by notables aboard the welcoming ship, the Macom, after his arrival in America for the express purpose of attending the Kentucky Derby at Louisville. The forefathers of the present Earl were the originators of the first English Derby, the greatest classic of the English racing calendar, just as the Kentucky Derby is the prime test in America. Left to right: Lady Maureen Stanley, daughter-in-law of the Earl of Derby; the Earl of Derby;
and Police Commissioner Grover Whelan.

Albert Head, who has been using him to mate to his small but high-producing herd.

Also included in this shipment are two full brothers of particularly good type, sons of Glamorgan West-ford Blinde, senior herd sire in the Babbarcombe herd of Mr. Herbert E.
Burbridge, and winner of many championships, the dam being Bab-barcombe Waikiki Pilot, winner of two silver medals at two and three years. The names of these two brothers are Babbarcombe Oxford
and Babbarcombe Brindies Sybil. The latter was purchased from Mr. George W. Malcolm, of Saanich, who has purchased another full brother to use in his herd of registered Jerseys.

Bulls with the above breeding behind them are bound to have an elevating effect on the grade
herd, and when their offspring reach the producing stage they will naturally encourage the farmer to purchase one or two registered heifers, thus obtaining additional recruits to the ever-swelling ranks of Jersey enthusiasts.

ISLAND INDUSTRY

"This shipment is a flattering
commentary on the place which Victoria occupies as a breeding centre for Jerseys," said Mr. J. B.
Munro, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, in referring yesterday to the Burns & Co. purchase. It also demonstrates the possibilities of Alberta as an outlet for some of our finely-bred milking breeds, which, it is almost certain, will constitute a source of improvement for other herds in Canada. Vancouver Island is becoming very well-known as a breeding-ground for high-producing dairy animals, and dairymen
of the Island are glad to have channels opening up through which the best of their dairy stock can be passed on to other communities,
which are not so highly favored.
We must look on these bulls as pioneers, for they are going to a strange country where the qualities
of the breed are not so well-known.
We feel sure they will give a good account of themselves and win many other converts to the breed."

Another shipment of Jerseys, it is understood, is leaving shortly for the Chilliwack country, and those who are in touch with the dairymen elsewhere are confident that by this time next year Vancouver Island
will be shipping at least two or three carloads of helpers to prairie
and Eastern points.
Burns & Co. require butter fat for their creameries, and the choice of their experts has fallen on the Jersey as the most economical butter fat producer, which is an additional compliment to the Jersey breed.

Tong War Leads Nine Chinese To Police Court

WINNIPEG, May 16.—Nine Chinese charged with wounding, in connection with a street affray early yesterday, bordering on a long war,
were remanded for one week in police court today. The Orientals were freed on receipt of word from hospital that Wong Guna and Wei Mah, injured in the Chinatown battle, "are doing nicely."

Yick Wong, originator of the Chinese Society, declared today that the encounter, in which axes and baseball bats were wielded, resulted from organized effort on the part of a Chinese group to extort tax
from all clubs and gaming houses
in the city on threat of police raids.
Police are guarding against new outbreaks in the Chinese section.

HE CAME HOME TO DIE, BUT DIDN'T

His uncle, a physician, prescribed Kellogg's
ALL-BRAN

"I didn't go west in France, but east, home to Canada, carrying my death-warrant, the doctor declared.
I weighed nearly 175 pounds—not much for a six-footer. I've, to me now, 185, and as hard as nails."

The speaker (name if requested) was young Canadian who served overseas
with the Royal Flying Corps, and returned in 1918 a mere shadow of a man.
His uncle, a prominent doctor, suggested Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. After on-month's trial, he felt better. He persisted, and in three months was back at his position, healthy and happy.

The best part of the story is his health has lasted as only health gained in a natural manner can last. He is still holding his strenuous position as editor of a successful publication.
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will relieve constipation and the chain of ill that arise from it, permanently and naturally. It acts regularly. Eat at least two table-spoonsful daily—in chronic cases at every meal. ALL-BRAN can conquer constipation.

PRIORITY UPON LOIS RIVER IS ASSERTED

United Power Companies
Protest Development
by Powell River
Company

CLAIM ANTEDATES PLACING OF RESERVE

When the application of the Powell River Company is made before the commission of water rights for the province for approval of the plans of the company for the works
it is proposed to establish for the diversion of water from Lois River
for the generation of power at Stillwater, and at the Powell River Company paper mills, there will be opposition to the application by the United Power Companies. This latter company has opposed the application of the Powell River Company
in the various stages before the water board and the controller,
but without avail.

The United Power Companies claims priority as far back as 1914. This priority was asserted on February 28, 1928, prior to a reserve being placed on the Lois water power on March 8, 1928.

The Powell River Company, it is stated, staked on the river for water power on May 2, 1928, while the reserve was still on, and made application to the water board on June 12, 1929.

At a hearing at Victoria on October 18, 1929, the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company had staked just previously, on May 25, 1929, and also
made application shortly afterward.
The reserve was not lifted until
June 24, 1929.

At a hearing at Victoria on October 18, 1929, the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company had staked just
previously, on May 25, 1929, and also
made application shortly afterward.
The reserve was not lifted until
June 24, 1929.

United Power Companies officers
claim that at that time they were negotiating with the Consolidated company for transfer of its rights to the Consolidated, and that the latter company withdrew its application without the knowledge or consent of the former, which was depending upon the Consolidated to protect its interests.

YOUNG MEXICAN DIES ON GALLOW'S

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal.,
May 16.—Armando Botares, young Mexican sentenced to hang for the killing of five members of the Alvarez-Garcia family with whom he roomed at San Fernando, Cal., died
today on the San Quentin gallows.
Botares walked calmly to his death and stood straight on the scaffold. He was accompanied by the thirteen steps by the Rev. Father
William P. Walsh, of San Rafael's parish. The trap was sprung at 10:04, and sixteen minutes later he was pronounced dead.
Botares spent the evening praying until 11 p.m., when he fell into a deep slumber. He declined breakfast. To prison guards the youth had expressed himself as sorry for the slayings. The guards said he appeared indifferent to his fate.

BERLIN, May 16.—The step toward temperance taken by the German Reichstag, placing a few mild restrictions on the sale of hard liquor, will go into effect July 1.
The new Saloons Act rings the curfew for the sale of liquor at 1
a.m., and forbids the sale of intoxicants on pay days and election days,
but enforcement thereof is left to the discretion of the local authorities. One definite provision is that alcohol is barred from juvenile sports meets and similar gatherings.

Pleads Guilty in Assize Court at New Westminster

NEW WESTMINSTER, May 16.—
Mex Delmel, transient, and John Cunningham, pleaded guilty yesterday in the Assize Court before Chief Justice Morrison to a charge of retaining stolen goods.

Previously Delmel had pleaded guilty to the charge of breaking into and entering the home of John Foster, Lake Como Road, Coquit-
lam. John Cunningham, his companion, pleaded not guilty to retaining stolen good, but in the trial
that followed, Constable Chadwick testified that articles taken from the Foster home were found on his person. Those articles were identified by Foster and Cunningham was found guilty by the jury and remanded. These two men, according to police evidence, had proceeded to rob the house of Foster after he had given them a meal.

THREE CHILDREN FATALLY BURNED

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 16.—
Three children were fatally burned
and their mother, Mrs. Francisca Ybarra, was seriously burned when fire destroyed their home near Campo, a village about forty miles east of here, at a late hour last night.

Victoria Ybarra, four, and Bedel Ybarra, aged seventeen days, were burned to death before they could be rescued from the flaming building. The mother was rescued, but not before she had been badly burned.
A third child, Antonio, seven, also was taken from the flames, and he and his mother were hurried by automobile to San Diego in an effort to save their lives. The boy died en route to the county hospital.
The origin of the fire had not been determined early today.

COUNTERVAILING DUTIES

The countervailing duties provided for in the Dunning Budget constitute something new in tariff-making in this country. Objectively their purpose is to put Canada in a position to meet tariff changes made in other countries. Specifically the Federal Government has designed what it considers a move that will answer a certain indignation that prevails throughout the country because of American economic penetration. The countervailing duties, however, as provided for in the Dunning Budget are but a feeble weapon. They cover some eighteen items, whereas there are nearly fifteen hundred in the tariff. This illustrates the feebleness of what is proposed. These duties do not constitute an answer to the American tariffs. It is as Mr. H. H. Stevens described it, "simply the answer of a small boy looking around the corner at the town bully and sticking his tongue out at him."

Countervailing duties, if they are to become a part of the fiscal policy of the Dominion, should be applied to the tariff as a whole. No doubt the special items to which they are to apply have been carefully selected so that they will in no instance give offence to the United States. That has been a governing motive in the administration of affairs by Mr. Mackenzie King. The countervailing duties are to apply to animals, canned meats, tallow, beeswax, eggs, fruit and vegetables (during the winter months when but little required). At a time when Canada's fresh vegetables are coming on to the market the countervailing duties will be valueless. The Government repealed the dumping clause and will have nothing to do with a seasonal tariff. The countervailing duties constitute a picaresque gesture likely to create amusement in the United States at least so far as vegetables are concerned.

The principle involved in the countervailing duties is that certain Canadian tariffs are to be established at foreign dictation. This is the feature to which Mr. R. B. Bennett and the Conservatives object, and very logically. Canada should be her own tariff-maker, designing rates on the basis of her national needs and for the purpose of fostering her own development. The countervailing duties, as decreed in the Budget, mean little or nothing. If they mean anything at all it is that certain Canadian tariffs are not to be fixed by Canada but by the foreign country from which such commodities are imported. Since it is an established fact that other countries in fixing their tariff schedules are concerned only with their own economic welfare, without regard to their effect on Canada or any other nation, it can readily be seen how a doctrine of loss of self-respect is involved in the countervailing duties ordained by the Minister of Finance.

WASTEFUL COMPETITION

The annual report of the Canadian National Railways shows that after taking into account all fixed charges and interest due to the Government the deficit for 1929 is $40,933,944, as compared with a deficit of $24,730,410 for 1928. There are also deficits to be provided for in the operation of the Canadian National West Indies Steamships Limited, plus interest requirements, and these will account for a further sum of $870,000. A statement of the Canadian National Railways shows that company is responsible for loans from the Dominion Government which total $60,448,082 and the accrued interest of $32,064,132. This accrued interest is one year only, and, since the C.N.R. is indulging in the borrowings from the Government each year the accrued interest continues to grow in volume. This fiscal year the Dominion Government has loan bills before Parliament amounting in all to $61,070,000 for railway and steamship account.

The deficits of the Canadian National Railways would not be nearly as heavy as they are if the authority of Parliament were exercised to eliminate the wasteful competition in which that railway indulges with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. That competition extends not only to branch railway lines, but to steamships and hotels. The so-called enterprise of the C.N.R. has led in some directions to both of the great transportation companies losing money, because in hotels and in steamships at numbers of points there is a surplusage of facilities. The main railway lines of the two companies duplicate each other over hundreds of miles of the country, and over an area through which during certain times of the year there is only enough business for one transportation organization. The more serious consideration, however, is the policy of the Canadian National Railways in providing hotels and steamships in centres where the people are already admirably served in this respect by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Wasteful competition was never contemplated when the Government took over so many of the railways of the Dominion. We doubt very much if it was ever intended that national ownership of railways should have been made permanent. The Government of the day came to the aid of certain railways as a temporary measure to prevent their becoming bankrupt, and the intention undoubtedly was that when conditions were right they should resume operations as private enterprises. In the process of rehabilitation the Government has become so deeply involved and is now owed so much money by the railway system that it is afraid to let go. What it is failing to do is to afford an economic check on the capital outlays being undertaken by the Canadian National Railways. As has been proved conclusively those outlays in many directions are for the purpose of wasteful competition. There is no desire in any quarter to starve the operations of the C.N.R. but the people of Canada have an undoubted right to say that all wasteful competition should be eliminated from the undertakings of that company.

WORDSWORTH IN THE NEWS

It was certainly odd to find Wordsworth in the political columns of some of the English newspapers just recently. Wordsworth came into the news of the debts of the Southern States, which have lately been debated in the House of Lords. It is a curious circumstance that Wordsworth and his family were among the sufferers from the refusal of eight American States to pay their public debts. There are letters in existence in which the poet declares that both his own family and his friends suffered losses they could not afford to bear. In one of these letters to an American friend, who was helping him to recover his losses in the State of Mississippi, Wordsworth wrote: "Nothing remains for the suffering parties but patience and hope. All that you both say respecting the depth and extent of the indignation excited in your country by this shameless dishonesty we most readily believe; and upon that belief we rest our hope that justice will be done. But, in matters like this time is of infinite importance, and it is to be feared that the two individuals for whose comfort payment is of the most consequence may be in their graves before it comes. Let but taxes, however small, once be imposed exclusively for discharging these obligations, and the measure would be hailed as the dawn of a coming day; but until that is effected the most sanguine must be subjected to fits of despondency."

Feeling very strongly on the subject the poet wrote two sonnets calling attention to the grave principle involved by the refusal to pay a public debt. Three lines from one of them addressed to Pennsylvanians are as follows:

"All who reverse the memory of Penn Grieve for the land on whose wild woods his name Was fondly grafted with a virtuous aim."

The other sonnet is called "Men of the Western World," in which Wordsworth asks them whether their British ancestors left their native land only to cultivate dishonesty amid new surroundings.

Many tides have ebbed and flowed on both Atlantic shores since Wordsworth wrote these poems, but the debts remain unpaid. In a note to one of these sonnets Wordsworth expressed the hope, "that the time is not far distant when our brethren of the West will wipe out this stain on their name and nation," but the world still waits for that noble gesture from the State of Mississippi which broke faith with him so long ago.

FOR ST. JOSEPH'S

The Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital is holding its annual tag day today. The money derived from this medium goes towards adding to both comforts and necessities of the hospital—for linens, for babies' incubation, for special beds, for electric ranges and other implements. This is the only annual appeal made by St. Joseph's, an institution which has earned the good will, the confidence and the highest of praises from our citizens, as well as from all visitors in our midst who have occasion to visit there. St. Joseph's, indeed, is doing a noble and worthy work in the community. It deserves the most cordial support from the public. Its appeals are very rare. That is one reason why they should, at the long intervals in which they come, be productive of a most generous response. This, we believe, is the way in which the public will view today's tag day.

INTEGER VITAE

The man of life upright
Whose guileless heart is free
From all dishonest deeds,
Or thought of vanity;

The man whose silent days
In harmless joys are spent,
Whom honest cannot delude,
Nor sorrow discontent;

That man needs neither towers
Nor armor for defence;
Nor secret vaults to fly
From thunder's violence;

He only can behold
With unfrighted eyes
The horrors of the deep
And terrors of the skies.

Thus, seeming all the cares
That fate or fortune brings,
He makes his heaven his book,
His wisdom heavenly things;

Good thoughts his only friends,
His wealth a well-spent age,
The earth his sober inn
And quiet pilgrimage.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Look not upon the wine when it is red,
When it gives color to the cup;
Nor when it is a modest, strong drink in the bottle.

Man's first duty is to those of his own household.

Whatever we may think about the merits of Prohibition as a remedy for all the ills flesh and politics are heir to, there is one virtue in the Prohibitionists of the United States, while they wait a disapproving eye across the border
into Canada and wonder what this country must come to because it has rejected Prohibition, attend strictly to their own business. Their business is to make Prohibition victorious
if they can, and they do not care
a fig what other businesses
may come to so long as Prohibition proves successful in the United States.

The leader in the Prohibition movement has frankly told a Congressional committee that he did not care a fig whether a Congressman was wet or dry so long as he voted in Congress for Prohibition.

The Prohibition leader has gone even farther than that. He has frankly declared that although a Prohibitionist on principle, he has voted for anti-Prohibitionists on another principle, and that principle is that the concrete principle of Prohibition is more important to the nation than any abstract principle of politics. The Prohibition argument of course is that politics is rotten at the core anyhow and that the salvation of the country depends upon the national adoption or rejection of Prohibition.

Therefore the private views or acts
of a public man are of no consequence
so long as he votes for the maintenance of the Eighteenth Amendment. It is the first business of the Prohibition Party to firmly establish Prohibition, for after that aim is achieved, nothing can go wrong with the country despite the politicians.

So the Prohibitionist is attending strictly to his own special business. And in that matter the Prohibitionist is right. Much of the trouble in the world today may be ascribed to the disposition of nations and men to "butt into" affairs
which are none of their business.

The present British Government seems to be more concerned about the state of affairs in foreign nations than it is about the state of affairs at home. Almost every day we learn from the newspaper
despatches that members of the Macdonald Government are in Geneva, in Paris, in Rome, or somewhere else, busily engaged in the thankless, hopeless task of trying to unravel the tangled web of international politics, pleading for truces
in warship building and tariff building
and in the construction of war material. It would be unfair to say that the meddler would be to say their efforts have been fruitless. There has been a true in warship building,
but its provisions are limited.
Great Britain has stopped building
ships, has scrapped ships and reduced the personnel of her navy,
but the United States has not stopped warship building. A bill has been introduced into Congress providing for the expenditure of a billion dollars in the construction of new ships of war. The intro-ducer of the bill claims the true
in warship building is not a true
at all as far as the United States is concerned; it is authority for the construction of more ships. Both Italy and France are busily engaged in warship building, within certain
"categories," of course.

Not a nation in the world is observing a truce in the levying and raising of tariffs, notwithstanding the pleading voice of Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson. The Socialist Government of Great Britain is the only government in the world which has announced its intention of abolishing tariffs. Up till a month ago there was not a government
upon earth except the governments of Great Britain and Canada which was inflexibly wedded to the sacred principle of free trade, and since that time the government of Canada has recanted and adopted what it had hitherto proclaimed as the vicious principle of protection.

Although in the case of the government of Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King the recantation
may seem like a deathbed penitence,
it is surely better to repent in time than to repent at all. Canada has gone at least one halting step in the direction of minding her own business and acting in the interests of her own people. Considering the condition of affairs at home and in other parts of the Empire, possibly it would be a good thing for Great Britain if the government of that country were to pull some of its fingers out of the hot international pie and attend strictly to the business of the British people. If the Macdonald Government were to do that Great Britain probably would have more friends abroad
and certainly would be more secure
at home.

FOREIGN AND EMPIRE STAMPS
FOR CHARITY

Sir—A friend of mine in the Old Country told me he used to raise about $100 a year by sending his collected stamps to the British

Charity. I have several exchanges in case any collectors,
young or old, would care to see them

LINKING UP WHARVES

Sir—If the Seymour Narrows were bridged and a rail connection with the Mainland made to Victoria,
what are the chances likely to be made here? The first thing we would have to think of is to link up all the different wharves and depots
by rail as far as possible. Ferrying of freight cars about is the bunk;
bridge over Laurel Point is out of the question, I think, to connect with the Outer Wharves and the elevator owing to the shipping which must pass under it, unless it was of the Johnson type, and I think this would not suit with the amount of traffic in years to come when the population is, say, 200,000 or more.
The Inner Harbor is already congested. Eventually, and in the future, something will have to be done to make more use of the outside wharves.

Well, my early life was spent on railways in the Old Country, and I am naturally interested in railway matters, so I was looking over the situation here and studying the question lately. With the inter-switching agreement in force the traffic of both companies could be handled over Johnson Street Bridge and a connection made with the Outer Wharf from this side in the following manner: A string of cars, say six or seven, at a time pass down Store Street to near the end of the old Rock Bay Bridge and to the northeast end of the E. & N.
freight yard. The engine uncouples runs back on another track and gets the other end of the cars. It now proceeds down a graded incline made through the centre of the sand and gravel bunkers on a trestle-supported track to save filling up the wharf between the P.S.I. Company's office and the sand bunkers, so that the wharf could be made use of underneath. It then proceeds on back of the rice mills, through a rock cut,
past the Robert's Ironworks and the high-pressure salt water engine house, then between the back of Swifts and Scott's and Peter's warehouses, next under the E. & N.
tracks back of the station, and by this time the grade has dropped sufficiently to let cars pass under the Johnson Street Bridge. The cars pass under the Johnson Street Bridge and the Grand Trunk line to the wharf and the water tank of the Post office. Mind, all the way down to here it is on a gradual incline.

What next? There is a new retaining cement wall made across the bay about 185 or 175 feet further out in the water than the present one.
It does not go straight across from the back of the postoffice, but in a crescent shape. It veers off to the right to allow for a train to make the necessary turn as it passes through a tunnel which has been the embankment on Bellevue Street; then under the northwest corner of the lawn of the Parliament Buildings, Menzies
Street, Quebec Street, and on up one side of, say, Oswego Street to the breakwater and Outer Wharves.

Now, inside this new retaining wall across the bay, the rail track
runs in a trough which is, say,
four and a half to six feet below
the high-water level, outside the retaining wall. This trough, or tunnel, would be built of concrete resting on a rock and cement base
of steel, bolted together at the bottom
it reached above high-water mark to prevent any percolation of water into the tunnel. This could be done as they are now having a tunnel composed of iron sections
across the Detroit River.

There has been many complaints of the smell in the bay when the tide is out; by partly submerging
this tunnel you would not interfere with the grade of Bellevue Street
or the lawn of the Parliament Buildings

THREE SETS OF TENDERS ARE PRESENTED

Bids on Box Lake-Rosebery Road and Part of Yale Road Are Received by Department

FARM BUILDINGS AT TRANQUILLE

When the tenders for the Box Lake-Rosebery Road in the interior of the province were opened yesterday afternoon by Hon. W. A. McKenzie, acting minister of Public Works, among the five tenders which were submitted was one from a firm of contractors outside of the province, Ludberg & Ryberg, of Spokane.

The tender of this firm was above that of most of the British Columbia tenders, according to the figures in the bids.

The road is some four and a half miles long, and is mountain construction, running alongside of the railway line for a distance, which increases the danger of damage being done to the railway by rocks careening down the mountainside onto the track.

The tenders submitted were as follows: J. H. Green & Company, Nelson, $113,765; L. H. Rawlings, Nakusp, $113,405; Dawson, Wade & Company, $124,359.50; C. H. Ludberg & Carl Ryberg, Spokane, $127,185; and General Construction Company, $145,277.50.

The award will not likely be made until about the first of the week. The officials of the department will go into the figures, and check up on them.

SECTION OF YALE ROAD
Tenders for the Brown Road-Cogien Road section of the Yale Road were opened in public yesterday afternoon in the office of the Department of Public Works, by Hon. W. A. McKenzie, in the absence of the Minister of Public Works. These were kept close of the tenders for the work, eight tenders being submitted. These were Dawson, Wade & Company, $24,534.70; King-Moncrieff Construction Company, $25,667.70; Fraser Construction Company, $25,980; General Construction Company, $26,105; Columbia Building Company, $26,610; Harrison & Lamont Construction Company, $28,707.50; H. & J. Montasambert, $33,470; and J. E. Morton, $36,838.90.

The tenders were referred to the officials of the department to check up. The award will not likely be made until next week.

TRANQUILLE BUILDINGS
There were five tenders submitted for the erection of the farm buildings at Tranquille Mental Hospital, when the bids were opened yesterday. These were as follows: W. M. Orr, $11,981; Mission Construction Company, $12,360, which was altered by a subsequent bid to $12,400; May 15 to $13,780; S. J. Simmonds & Son, $12,537.75; W. G. Miller, Kelowna, $13,740; Johnston & Company, Kelowna, $15,795; and W. J. Moffat, Kamloops, $17,442.

The bids will be looked into by the officials before making an award.

VERDICT GOES IN FAVOR OF MRS. GROSSMAN

Plaintiff in Case Against C.P.R. Is Awarded Damages in Supreme Court

FIND LIABILITY IN EQUAL PROPORTION

Damages to the extent of $1,795 were yesterday awarded against the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in favor of Mrs. M. J. Grossman, who had filed a suit against the company to claim compensation for a fall from an exterior staircase at the Empress Hotel, which accident had occurred last August.

The case was continued in the Supreme Court yesterday morning before Mr. Justice Fisher, when Mr. W. C. Craig, for the Canadian Pacific Railway, addressed the jury for the defence.

The liability of the defendants, said Mr. Craig, depended upon whether they had failed in their duty to the company's employees. The jury would be entirely wrong to take into account any question of sympathy, in giving its verdict, the main question at issue being whether the staircase in question might be considered to be reasonably safe for a person who exercised an ordinary amount of care.

CASE FOR PLAINTIFF
In rehearsing the case for the plaintiff, Mr. H. A. Maclean, K.C., said that Mrs. Grossman had been so seriously injured that there was no reason to deny that the accident might result in death or insanity. Evidence had shown that the plaintiff was fond of outdoor sports, and there was every reason to believe that she had been a thoroughly healthy and robust woman up to the time of the accident, and that there was no indication that she was a hypochondriacal subject, such as each to be liable in equal proportions of 50 per cent. The special damages were assessed at $341.75, and the general damages at $3,250.

Returned three-quarters of an hour later, they stated that they found the plaintiff and the defendants each to be liable in equal proportions of 50 per cent. The special damages were assessed at $341.75, and the general damages at $3,250.

The late Lord Balfour, who, as is well known, was a confirmed bachelor, was once sitting in the drawing-room of a friend who was happily married. Before them on the hearth-rug were a cat and dog lying together. Said the friend: "Why do people speak of a cat-and-dog life? See how happy these are." Lord Balfour paused for a moment, smiled, and then said: "Tie them together."

DISPLAY AT GYMNASIUM IS WORTH WHILE

Students of High School Appear in Physical Exercises and Attract Full Galleries

SHOW REPEATED AGAIN TONIGHT

Standing room only, the ever-sought aim of the professional entertainer, is a contingency which sometimes occurs in connection with amateur performances, and such happened to be the case last evening at the Victoria High School gymnasium, when the girl and the boy students of that institution appeared in what they advertised as a gymnastic demonstration, in which they demonstrated that other things can be acquired in an institution of learning beside the mastery of the three R's and a speaking acquaintance with sundry foreign languages.

Skipping, club swinging and drills of varied character were executed with a precision that betokened a desire on the part of everyone taking part to work as a unit, and the results justified the apparent eagerness of the pupils and the training bestowed upon them by their instructor. The folk dancing was particularly good, the young ladies taking part carrying out the pretty movements of the gipsy dances as well as those of the English and Danish folk dances, giving a lot of pleasure to the throngs in the galleries of the gymnasium. These features, as well as an exhibition of skipping, and a number of girls-in-tumbling and pyramiding, were arranged by Miss Mona G. Miller, who must have been exceedingly gratified because of the generous applause with which the various groups were favored as they concluded their numbers.

CLEVER EXHIBITION

Not were the boys, under the direction of Mr. William A. Rogers, a bit below the high average attained by the girl students. In their apparatus work, physical training, tumbling and other stunts, they were some exceedingly difficult feats were carried out in clean-cut fashion, the work on the bars and the horse vaulting to long hours of application necessary in order to attain the proficiency demonstrated.

Not the least of the pleasure derived from the high school's entertainment was furnished by a quartette of funmakers, who clowning with the boys in the execution of their apparatus stunts and provided much merriment for the gallery and droll sketches.

TO BE REPEATED

On the high character of the performance rendered last evening, the Pupils of Victoria High School and their instructors are deserving of congratulations, the institution over which Principal R. Dilworth presides gaining for itself a reputation of prestige of an athletic and physical nature, which will add to, not detract from, the excellent reputation it already enjoys in the broader field of education. The gymnasium show of the Victoria High School, which is to be repeated tonight, is worthy of another thoroughgoing analysis. The programme followed: Apparatus work, boys; skipping, girls of divisions 20, 22, 24 and 35, pianist, Miss Beattie Crowther; Danish folk dance, "The Hatter," girls of divisions 20, 22, 24 and 35, pianist, Miss Beattie Crowther; "Lee and Bob," apparatus work, boys; Indian club swinging, girls of divisions 2, 8, 12 and 21, pianist, Miss Beattie Crowther; English folk dance, "The Old Maid," girls of divisions 5 and 13, pianist, Miss Dorothy Robinson; physical training, boys; sword and stick dance, girls of divisions 27 and 28, pianist, Miss Helen Schwenker; apparatus work, boys; wand drill, girls of divisions 10, 15, 19, 25, 26, 33 and 37; tumbling, Messrs. Dickson, Holman, Ferguson and Blaisdell; Gipsy dance, girls, pianist, Miss Beattie Crowther; pyramids and tumbling, "V.I.R." girls; "God Save the King."

Continued from Page 1 will report to the City Council at the meeting starting at 2 p.m.

INTERIM REPORT

An interim report of Hellwell, Macbeth and the committee of auditors, made to the select committee Friday, substantiated the findings of W. L. Woodford, internal auditor, but revealed new discrepancies. The auditors are continuing their investigations.

"Any taxpayer who desires may lay an information against Mr. Ireland," said Mr. Macbeth, when asked whether the select committee would proceed against the suspended auditor. "It is a matter for the council to decide Monday, after the committee's report is laid before it."

"Ireland," taking commissions from the Log Cabin Cafe owner, was wrong, but it didn't take any of the taxpayers' money. Maxwell's case, on the other hand, was one of plain stealing. In redeeming meal tickets for his own use he took the taxpayers' money for that purpose."

Pressed for a statement as to whether the select committee had ordered the investigation to be pursued to ascertain the degree of criminality, if any, in Ireland's case, Mr. Woodford said nothing would be done except on the authority of the City Council.

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

Immediately after the meeting of the City Council Monday afternoon, applications will be called for to fill the position of city relief officer, the Mayor announced.

This was made known late Friday after the select committee had met in secret to review the interim report of Hellwell, Macbeth and Co. auditors, on the administration of the relief office.

Information which came from the conference indicated that no further discrepancies were discovered by the uncompleted audit.

IN POLICE COURT

Clifton Maxwell, suspended relief department employee, who on Wednesday confessed to converting city meal tickets into cash at the Wondy Lunch, and who was arrested late Thursday afternoon on a charge of stealing $2,300, appeared in police court at 10 o'clock this morning.

Maxwell, who was represented by Mr. J. R. Nicholson, asked for a reduction in the amount of bail. Counsel explained that Magistrate H. C. Shaw had set $5,500 as the maximum which his client could raise.

Corporation counsel, G. E. McGowan, who appeared for the city, stated that $5,500 bail was "substantial," and that he would not oppose reduction to that amount.

Magistrate Shaw therefore set bail at $5,500, stating that it must be in not more than four sureties.

PRELIMINARY HEARING

Preliminary hearing of the charge against the relief employee, who was arrested on Wednesday, was adjourned for one week at the request of Nicholson.

No action has been ordered against the relief employee, who confessed to obtaining commissions from the Log Cabin Cafe and "donations" from the city's legal department is considering Mr. Ireland's case. The relief office was suspended following his admissions on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. H. W. Davey appeared for the plaintiff company in a hearing which was unopposed.

On Publicity Work—Mr. Mark Larkin, assistant to the executive vice-president of the Association of Motion Picture Producers, Hollywood, California, is in the city in connection with publicity for the industry, as distinct from publicity of the individual studios. Announcements

There is a clear distinction between vanity and self-respect. It is not vain to know to keep one's self as presentable as possible. Many women fear this accusation, but it is as right and legitimate to take steps to have one's face free of ugly blemishes as it is to clean one's teeth or brush one's hair. IMPRESSED WITH SEATTLE COURSES

Vancouver School Trustees Gather Data on Vocational and Occupational Education in U.S.

SEATTLE, May 16.—Two women members of the school board of Vancouver, B.C., sent to Seattle on an "idea tour" to gather details and data on "vocational and occupational education," left for Tacoma today, after visiting many of the city's grammar and high schools yesterday.

Mrs. Paul Smith and Miss A. D. Jamieson, who are the women appointed by the Canadian board to obtain information which may later be used in their own schools, expressed themselves as greatly impressed with the number of practical courses available to Seattle students.

It was the practical side of it all which most enthused them, Miss Jamieson said yesterday at her hotel after she and Mrs. Smith had visited the schools. Seattle youth can learn almost any trade under the sun, learn properly and while they are still very young. It seems to me that Seattle is solving its unemployment problem, because when these young students are through with their course they will be skilled in the trade they choose.

Two Armed Men Hold Up Night Club in South

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—About twenty guests of a Turkish street night club were robbed early today by two armed men, who lined up the proprietor, employees and customers, and collected about $175 and a few pieces of jewelry.

Miss Jean Carroll, an entertainer, reported that one of the robbers struck her down twice—once with his fist and again with the butt of his gun. Mr. Mervin Cowan, a vice broker, said one of the holdups shot at him when he resisted.

All the guests were San Franciscans except Mr. William Weber, of Seattle, who reported losing a watch and $6.

Peace River Block Transfer Bill Is Given Third Reading

OTTAWA, May 16.—Government bill transferring the Peace River block and the railway lands from the Dominion to British Columbia was given third reading in the Senate yesterday. It was a companion bill to those transferring the natural resources to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

SPEECH PROTESTED

ROME, May 16.—Maurice de Beaumont, the French Ambassador, today called on Foreign Minister Dino Grandi at the Chigi Palace and protested unofficially against the giving of a speech delivered last Sunday at Leghorn by Premier Mussolini.

The Premier Premier said in his address to 35,000 subjects that "if our frontiers were threatened there would be gathered one human mass—may, a thunderbolt—launched against us and all comers." The Duke declared, recalling that Sunday's battle with the Austrians, "There is something unescapable inevitable in this march toward the destiny of fascist Italy, and nobody can halt it."

The Premier further declared: "I want to say not only to you, but to the people beyond our frontiers that we are not anxious to precipitate adventures, but if anyone deceives himself so far as to think he can halt our onward march, he will find the whole Italian people in front of him."

Recital Tonight

The final recital of the season will be given tonight by the Victoria School of Expression in the New Thought Temple, 720 1/2 Fort Street. The programme is of generous length, and will begin at 8 p.m. There will be several numbers by the school choir, which has such a fine reputation for its refined and tonal beauty. It is probably one of the finest junior choirs of its size in the province. A humorous sketch will be included in the programme.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

Even the sports fashion world has been influenced by the return of femininity to the mode. All of the new sports frocks seem to be influenced by the new silhouette. Only in length do they remain the same, coming to just two or three inches below the knee—this is to allow for that perfect comfort and freedom which are so necessary to the active sportsman.

The one-piece sports frock for summer is presented in a number of charming materials that can be put into the tub and look like fresh and crisp. Linens, plaids, broadcloths and shantung are all popular.

The long-sleeved model illustrated today is of pale orchid shantung. Its original effect suggesting a lumber-jacket. The waistline is slightly nipped in and banded. A full front panel provides fullness. The stitched band of white piping around the neckline crosses in front, and adds a pleasing contrast.

BOOK ON CANNING PREPARED BY BANK

Directions for Preserving Fruit and Vegetables to Be Given Away Free

The Bank of Montreal is distributing a booklet in every rural district in Canada which embodies full description and instructions in regard to all the modern methods of canning a wide variety of products. For many years housewives have now the means of preserving their own fruit for winter use, and Summer vegetables have not been included among the canned goods of the store cupboard.

In recent years the bank has issued a whole series of handbooks for farmers. The latest book, entitled "Home Canning," is addressed particularly to the housewife on the farm, and should help materially not only to solve the problems of canning, but to widen its range. The question of whether or not to can is a matter of convenience and health of rural families.

Many people realize, perhaps, the progress that has been made in the preservation of whole fruit in syrup. It was only four years before the war when methods were discovered for the canning of nonacid vegetables and meats, and now the canner can preserve a wide variety of food which cannot be stored away in times of plenty for use when needed.

The question of whether or not to can is a matter of convenience and health of rural families. The booklet dispels any doubt that there may be on the matter. It shows not only how the essential vitamins and other healthful qualities may be retained in preserved foods, but how they may be made to retain their original freshness and thus contribute materially in the preservation of health through diet.

Everybody knows nowadays that a plentiful supply of fruit and vegetables is necessary to a healthy diet. Farm folks, however, have no quick and easy access to the year round to fresh products. They usually have to do without fruit and vegetables in winter, which makes for monotony of diet and expense.

There are directions for both cold packs and hot packs, and also not only for the ordinary methods of processing by heat, but also for the use of that extremely valuable little invention, the steam pressure cooker, which is especially helpful in the canning of meat and vegetables, and is a useful all the time for cooking.

Summing up, this booklet shows how canning can give Summer food in winter, how the fresh-fruit problem can be solved, how food that would otherwise be wasted can be saved; how feed can be saved by killing and canning; chickens, pigs and calves when they are ready; how the housewife may always have at hand food for unexpected company or for busy days; and how the food bills may be reduced.

Free copies of the booklet may be obtained at the local branch of the Bank of Montreal.

Cathedral Is Scene of Wedding

A pretty wedding took place at Christ Church Cathedral on Wednesday afternoon when Rev. E. W. P. Carter united in marriage Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Rockingham, of Bamfield Cable Station, to Mr. Leslie Hughes, of London, England, latterly of Rio de Janeiro.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and made a charming picture in her wedding gown of beige georgette and lace gown on long, graceful lines, and picture hat of molair to match. Her bouquet was of tea roses and gladioli. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ethel Rockingham, who carried a bouquet of sweet peas and ferns. The bridesmaids wore light blue frocks with pink net with crinoline hat to match, trimmed with turquoise blue velvet ribbon. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas and ferns. The groom wore a tuxedo and a boutonniere of pink carnations. Rev. E. W. P. Carter proposed the bride's health, the groom responding, while Mr. D. J. Greenway proposed the health of Mr. and Mrs. Rockingham. The table was beautifully arranged with pink and mauve sweet peas and centred with a wedding cake. The bride and groom left for Montreal, en route to London and Paris, where they will spend their honeymoon. For traveling the bride wore a smart beige costume and hat to match.

Before her wedding the bride was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Greenway, Monterey Avenue.

Among the invited guests attending the graduation class of nurses at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria, Wednesday, were: Mrs. Louie Gottle, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Heigesen, Mrs. V. Heigesen and Mr. and Mrs. A. Wilson.

DR. HINCKS AT METROPOLITAN

Dr. Sippell Thanks Church Board for Gracious Provision During Year of Retirement

CHURCH BEING RENOVATED

The pulpit of the Metropolitan Church will be supplied on Sunday by Rev. Bruce Gray, assistant at First United Church, and Rev. H. D. Hincks, D.D., of Toronto, Rev. George Webber, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, is unable to attend. Rev. Dr. Hincks, who has been supplying the pulpit of Wesley Church, Vancouver, for the past year, has occupied the leading pulpit in the city of Toronto during a lengthened pastorate and is regarded as one of the most forceful speakers of Canada.

The official board of the church held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, when a communication was read from Rev. Dr. C. T. Scott, D.D., of Hamilton, expressing his delight at the prospect of renewing his relations with Metropolitan in September next, which were terminated at the end of a most successful pastorate—some fourteen years ago. Dr. Sippell expresses his satisfaction over this arrangement to meet the needs of the church during his absence, and thanked the board for the many kindnesses shown him and his family during the ten years of his pastorate, as also for the gracious provision made for him for the year of temporary retirement.

Mr. Fred Robins was reappointed for another year at an increase of salary, to conduct the work of religious education. The building committee reported favorably on the progress of the work of renovating the church at a cost of several thousand dollars.

CITY OF LONDON HONORS DR. MOTT

International Missionary Head Reported a Growing Interest in Religion

Dr. John Mott, the president of the International Missionary Council, is spending some weeks in Britain in conference with the mission-ary leaders of the various commonwealths associated with the council. The only public meeting at which he appeared was that given by the City of London in honor of his work on behalf of humanity.

The Archbishop of Canterbury made the meeting, according to The Christian Century, an occasion for urging the importance of the international mind. He said that Dr. Mott was a good and even a great American, and yet he was also a temporary citizen of every country and an honorary member of every church. He had proved that when Christian men came face to face with the pressing problems of world life they could realize the fullness of their common humanity.

In his speech Dr. Mott said that he had found in all parts of the world a growing interest in religion manifested in inquiry, criticism, discussion and constructive planning. At the close of his speech he said that in Christ and in Christ only can we discover and realize the unity of the human race.

On Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock Dr. Barton will give another of his popular health lectures on "Medical Freedom."

The Society for Psychic Research will meet in the S.O.E. Hall on Sunday at 7:30 o'clock, when the speaker will be Madame Cherie, of Vancouver. Her subject will be "Our Thoughts." Written questions will be answered by the lecture. There will be a healing and message circle on Monday at 8 o'clock, to which visitors are invited.

Retiring Primate Had Large Part in Church's Progress

BORN on the banks of the Red River, Archbishop Malan is representative of the progress of the West and of the religious ministrations of the church of which he has been the presiding officer. In view of the early relinquishing of the primacy his career is sketched as the church feature in tomorrow's issue.

Major James Merritt, divisional commander for Southern British Columbia, and Ensign Peterson, divisional young people's secretary, both of Vancouver headquarters, will be present at the service of the Army Citadel, Broad Street, tonight at 8 o'clock. Big League BASEBALL

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)
Jimmy Archer, the old Cub catcher, had his right arm badly burned when a boy, when it heated it had become shriveled and bent. But this turned out to be a blessing in disguise. Archer developed a wonderful snap throw to second base with his bent arm that he threw in almost a sitting position.

An amateur catcher should practice a snap throw and learn to get the ball away fast.

He should have a good "pocket" in his catching glove that imparts a rebounding report when receiving a fast ball. A catcher who can make the ball "pop" when he receives it, gives a great deal of added encouragement to his pitcher.

Watch the way the batters stand and the way they hold their bats. If they grasp the bat at the extreme end, call to your pitcher for high fast balls, pitched inside the plate. If a left-handed batter is a long hitter in right field, pitch fast balls outside and make him hit to left field.

Watch the runner on first base. If he looks like he is going to steal second, call for a fast ball, pitched well outside, providing your pitcher is not wild and already in the "hole" on the batter.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Singing River of Pascagoula, Mississippi—The phenomenon of the Singing River of Pascagoula has come under the observation of thousands, but no adequate explanation of it has been made. Popular legend and folklore have assigned many poetical reasons for this delightful natural curiosity. Like the case of the Vocal Statue of Memnon, or the Barking Sands of Hawaii, the cause is probably a combination of natural and atmospheric conditions.

Sergeant John L. Clem, the Youngest Soldier in the Civil War—John L. Clem was the youngest volunteer in the Civil War, in which he took an active part, having volunteered at the age of twelve. The big New Yorker toured Australia last year and proved such a hit with the fans that the Stadiums, Limited, Australian promoters, have signed him to show there again.

Although Thye has never appeared in action here, he is by no means a newcomer to the capital city. Last year, on his return from Australia, he passed through en route to San Francisco, while when Bob Kruse showed here against Sonnenberg, Thye was in his corner.

Americans Overwhelm Britishers to Win by Ten Matches to Two

Bobby Jones and Squad Capture Seven of Eight Singles—Moe Plays Brilliantly—Torrance Nets Lone British Victory Over Oulmet

By BERNARD DARWIN
British Golf Society
(Copyright, 1936, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

SANDWICH, Eng., May 16.—The American Walker Cup team overwhelmed the British at Sandwich. They won seven out of eight singles and captured the whole contest by ten matches to two.

Such figures speak for themselves. I have no excuses to offer. Some of our men played well. Some played very well. But, however they had played, they never could have stood against such a combined attack.

Nobody has profounder admiration for American golfers than I. But I never thought they could play as well as they did today. All matches were important, for on any one of them might have depended the issue of the day.

But there was only one that I believe I wanted to see, and that was Bobby Jones against Roger Wethered.

I can't say that anyone expected Wethered to win. But if there was any man who could produce the kind of golf to hold Bobby, we thought he was the one.

Of course, everything had to go right for use if he was to do it. And, above everything else, his driving, which is his heel of Achilles, had to hold out. It did not hold out. Wethered had a fit of hooking, and to go into the rough against Bobby is to lose a hole.

A BRILLIANT RECOVERY
It must be admitted, however, that Wethered was sorely tried. Up to the turn he was fully holding his own. Bobby then let loose one devastating thrust, a stroke of overwhelming genius, when from a badly hooked drive to the second hole he laid a pitch and run dead from heavy grass and stone. Otherwise he was not quite his best self.

Jones let a putt or two slip and had to work hard for some of his halves.

Both players were out in 35, a good score, but not a terrific one, and there seemed nothing to it. Wethered wilted under the blue. Bobby really began to show what he could do.

He holed the next four holes in 4 3 3, which may be called, I suppose, one par, two birdies and one eagle. There was nothing to be done against such golf, and Wethered wilted under the blue. Bobby really began to show what he could do.

At the last hole Bobby did make a mistake and was bunkered. He laid the ball practically dead but missed a putt. So that was seven up and a score of 69. Out, 4 3 4 3 4 3 3 4; home, 4 3 3 3 5 4 3 4 5. That was a great score, but it was not the best of the morning.

MOE BRILLIANT
Don Moe was out in 32 against the huge-hitting Stout. But he was one down, and Stout, continuing to play splendidly, added 36 to his 31, and was around in 67. That was encouraging for Britain.

So were Torrance's 70 and five up on Francis Oulmet, who again struck me as looking tired. So in lesser degree was the fact that Hartley had got his game back again and was holding Von Elm. They were all square at nineteen.

On the other hand, Voigt, playing with relentless accuracy, was six up on Holderness, who does not strike me today as quite the golfer he was when he won his two championships. He, too, looked tired. Voigt makes his enemy feel and look tired.

Another shrewd blow for America was Roland Mackenzie's eight up on Campbell. So already America had three singles as good as won and was in an impregnable position. As a reserve, and a pretty good reserve, too, they had their amateur champion, Harrison Johnston, three up on our amateur champion, Cyril Tolley.

JOHNSTON SHOWS FORM
If Johnston's golf had not been positively scintillating it had been very sound, for Johnston was around in 74, with five at the short hole. And that is hard to beat.

Finally, some of the most brilliant golf had been played by Willing and Smith, players of very similar type, sound and steady as a rule rather than pyrotechnic. If one did not hole a long putt the other did. It was brilliantly good fun to watch and they were all square at the end of the first nine. They were playing well and Smith ended with his nose just in front after the morning round.

Nothing but a miracle could now save England. The miracle did not happen, of course. We knew it never could. The key to the whole situation was the Tolley-Johnston match. If England lost that nothing else mattered.

To begin with it looked as if England would win this match. Tolley started away in his most superb and all-conquering manner. He nearly had two at the first and went on with 4 3 4. At that point all Johnston's lead had gone and he might well have been excused had he felt shaken. Bobby, we thought he was the one.

Johnston stuck to his guns and Tolley dropped his game and began to play weak, crooked shots. Johnston got two out of the next three holes and from that point he had a grip on his man. He did make a couple of putts, but it did not matter. He had too many chances and could afford to throw one or two away. So Johnston won splendidly, by 5 and 4, and all was over. More American victories followed.

Of course, Jones and Voigt won easily. And then Von Elm, holding putts like a fiend, although people say he is not a good putter, beat Hartley by 3 and 2. Von Elm's putting really was cruel, for long ones were flying in as if the ball were tethered by an invisible string.

Stout, who had overwhelmed the heroic Moe with three in the morning, began with three more in the afternoon and was seven up after three holes. Then the tide turned, and Moe, playing nobly, won five in a row, from the sixth to the tenth. Stout never collapsed or gave in. Moe went from strength to strength and was one up with four to play.

Stout caught him again and they were all square with one to play. Then Moe made his final effort and laid a long approach shot within a yard. He was around in 67 and of the whole side that had played gloriously, he was the unquestioned hero.

Willing won against Smith, and so we were left with a single victory. Torrance, just as we were in America. Never in my life have I seen such combined brilliance by any team of golfers.

WOLGAST RETAINS FLYWEIGHT TITLE

Opponent Collapses at End of Five Rounds in Championship Mix at Garden

NEW YORK, May 16.—Midget Wolgast, 112, Philadelphia, retained his world's flyweight title in New York and Pennsylvania tonight, when Willie La Morthe collapsed at the end of five round rounds in Madison Square Garden.

Previous to the unexpected ending of the titular affair, Wolgast had been pummeling rights and lefts into La Morthe's body, a style of attack that began to show effect on the Newark boxer new the end of the fourth round. La Morthe showed effects of making the flyweight limit, appearing drawn when he entered the ring. In contrast the Philadelphia was in the best of condition, entering at 110 3-4 pounds.

After being carried to the dressing room, La Morthe soon recovered. The commission physician, who ignored the case as a heart spasm, probably caused by a punch under the heart near the end of the fifth round.

The end of the battle, which was all Wolgast's up to the sudden climax, stunned the handful of faithful that found its way to his corner when he suddenly collapsed on the mat.

He was carried from the ring unconscious.

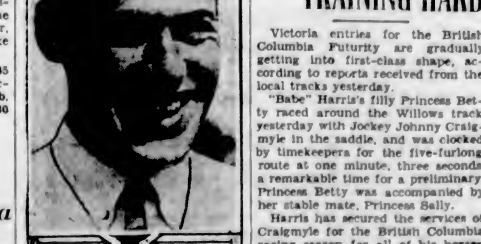

LOCAL ENTRIES TRAINING HARD

Victoria entries for the British Columbia Futurity are gradually getting into first-class shape, according to reports received from the local tracks yesterday.

"Babe" Harris's filly Princess Betty raced around the Willows track yesterday with jockey Johnny Craigmyle in the saddle, and was clocked by timekeepers for the five-furlong route at one minute, three seconds, a remarkable time for a preliminary. Princess Betty was accompanied by her stable mate, Princess Sally.

Harris has secured the services of Craigmyle for the British Columbia racing season for all of his horses. Craigmyle has engaged "Bobby" Crenwell as his agent for the same period.

Harris's jockey is a native son and is a half-brother of the leading four in the United States. Craigmyle will also appear here on May 24 as an added attraction for the local Victoria Day celebrations.

Bobby Jones
Captain of the United States Walker Cup team, who yesterday and Thursday led his team to a brilliant victory over Great Britain. In the singles matches Jones scored on each side over Roger Wethered, the British skipper, while in the four-somes he teamed with Dr. O. P. Willing and won handsily from Rex Hartley and T. A. Torrance.

National Boxing Body Suspends Primo Carnera

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 16.—The National Boxing Association announced today the indefinite suspension of Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight boxer. The action followed a report of N.B.A. officials by a N.B.A. committee which investigated several of Carnera's knockouts of second rate fighters.

Sons of Canada Check In With Initial Victory of Season in Interesting Game—Stickney Is Driven From Mound

Sons of Canada	1	3	.250

Next game, Monday—Eagles vs. Elsas.

OKERS' ball nine, who have been leading last night, straightened out in the Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League in a blaze of glory, were suddenly halted last night when Jack Curtis' Sons of Canada checked in with a 9-5 victory over the Jokers in a regular league fixture at the Royal Athletic Park. It marked the initial win of the season for the Canadians, after taking three straight on the chin.

For five innings the teams turned in the flattest and fastest exhibition of the season, with the score at the end of the fifth reading 2-1 in favor of the Jokers.

The Sons of Canada checked in with a run in the initial stanza, when Falconer lifted one of Stickney's offerings over the centre field fence. Two men were down at the time and no one on base. Jokers tied the score in their half of the fifth inning, when Elmer Smith, their lead-off man, scored the distance. D'Arcy put the Jokers in the lead in the third inning when he doubled to left field and scored on a single by Down.

It was in the first of the sixth that the fireworks started, and before the smoke had cleared away Stickney was clouted from the mound and the Sons of Canada had checked in with five runs, enough to win the game.

FALCONER STARTS RALLY

Falconer, covering the initial cushion for the Sons, started this rally by crashing a hot one through short for two bases. Holman followed and, kissed the centre field fence with a hard drive, sending Falconer to third, while he scampered around to the keyhole sack. Stickney showed signs of weakening here and was responsible for the tying marker when he walked Colin Campbell and Craig. Bacon followed and crashed out a hot single which scored Holman and Colin Campbell. Still another pair of runs came in when Ray Parfitt collected a single and sent Craig home, while Bacon scampered over the plate, while Elmer Smith was booting the ball into the outfield. Parfitt's hit was Stickney's signal to leave the mound, and he did. Leo Holden was called to the rescue and man-handled the runner-getting bee. Jokers sent Belcher the distance in their half of the sixth on successive doubles by himself and Holden.

Two hits, one of which went for an extra base, coupled with a base on balls, a balk and an error allowed the Sons of Canada to check in with three runs and bring their total to nine.

Jokers fought to the last but were only successful in driving two runners the distance in the seventh inning.

PARFITT MAKES DEBUT

Ray Parfitt made his season's debut on the mound for the Canadians and heaved effective ball, keeping the Jokers' nine hits well scattered. He breezed three. Stickney worked like a charm for five innings, allowing but two hits, but he bumped into a bag full of trouble in the sixth. Six of the opposing sluggers hit at his offerings in vain, while he issued free transportation to four.

Holden was nicked for three safeties in one and two-thirds innings and fanned two.

Jim D'Arcy, Jokers' shortstop, led the way with the willow, getting three hits, including a double, out of four trips to the plate.

Y.M.C.A. COURTS WILL OPEN TODAY

Members of the Y.M.C.A. Tennis Club, both male and female, will gather on the association's courts this afternoon at 3 o'clock to attend the official opening of the season. The courts are situated at the rear of the Y.M.C.A. Building at the corner of Blanshard and View Streets and a large turn-out of members is expected.

A great deal of interest has been shown in this year's prospects and if the activities around the courts during the past two weeks is any criterion, then a successful opening will, no doubt, be the result.

Following the usual ceremonies, the members will engage in friendly matches with Alan Stewart and Warren Martin in charge of the arrangements. At the conclusion of the latter arrangements, the players will adjourn to the "Y," where refreshments will be served. Miss Pat Copeland and Ray Robson will be in charge of the latter arrangements.

As the season progresses several interclub, exhibition and social tournaments will be arranged by the officials, so that the members will be active the majority of the summer. Anyone wishing to enroll as a member may do so by making inquiries at the Y.M.C.A. office. There is room for several more players.

"How would you like to hear your little ones howling for bread?" demanded the beggar.

The harassed family man sighed. "It would be heavenly," he said. "At present they do nothing but howl for chocolates."

Sixteen May Start in Kentucky Derby Today

Large Field Assured for Event—Gallant Fox 7 to 5 Favorite—Post Position and Jockeys Announced—Lord Derby to Watch Race

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 16.—Racing fortune, so far as the luck of the draw is concerned, smiled today upon the chances of the Gallant Fox, outstanding favorite for the Kentucky Derby tomorrow, with the famous and famous Kentucky East's chief hope for another triumph over the West in this $50,000 classic of the turf.

In the field of sixteen crack three-year-olds named to start, Gallant Fox drew the seventh position from the pole, and horsemen, eager to seize any and all portents, regarded this as a favorable break for the big brown colt, heavily supported to win and backed down to the usually short odds of around 7 to 5. In capturing the two big Eastern races, the Wood Memorial and Preakness, earlier this spring, Gallant Fox drew the pole position, was caught in bad early jama and forced to come from behind or go around to win.

The result of the Derby draw was considered to have minimized the chance of a bad getaway for the horse which will carry the colors of William Woodward, of New York.

TANNERY BEST MUDDER

Tannery, Edward F. Pritchard's chestnut colt and most heavily backed of all the Kentucky entrants, was not so lucky in the draw. The strapping son of Ballot placed well on the outside at number thirteen, an ill-omened number among the superstitious of the turf. Even less fortunate were the Kentucky pair of Edward R. Bradley, whose Breezebreed, and Buckeye Post, the extreme outside place of number sixteen. It was recalled that last year, Bradley's favorite, Blue Larkspur, failed to overcome the handicap of being on the outside fringe of the field.

Tannery is acknowledged one of the best mud runners in the field. It may find more favor from the weather gods, for the prospect for showers tonight and possibly tomorrow morning carried the threat of heavy going. If such conditions prevail, Tannery, already a good second choice at about 3 to 1 in the morning, may have a last-minute even chance to beat Gallant Fox, which is not believed to favor anything but a good firm track.

The Churchill Downs oval was in excellent condition today, a trifle cuppy, and it was not expected that a shower or two would seriously affect racing conditions, especially if the prediction of clear and cool weather for tomorrow is fulfilled.

EARL DERRY TO ATTEND

The Earl of Derby, seventeenth of his line, will witness for the first time the United States racing counterpart of the classic English event, bearing his name. Guest of Joseph E. Widener, Eastern sportsman, while in this country, the English earl was expected to reach Louisville today from Lexington, where he has been visiting the choicest of blue-grass breeding establishments.

Tomorrow he will occupy a post of honor, and an opportunity arranged for him to broadcast impressions of the race over an international radio "hook-up."

The field for the race, with post positions, weights, jockeys, owners and probable odds, follow:
1—Longus, 126 lbs.; jockey, R. O'Brien; owner, W. Hoffman, Jr.; 20 to 1.
2—Uncle Luther, 126 lbs.; jockey, C. McCrossen; owner, Luther Silver; 20 to 1.
3—Ned O., 126 lbs.; jockey, J. D. Mooney; owner, G. W. Foreham; 15 to 1.
4—Alciabides, 126 lbs.; jockey, L. Johnston; owner, Hal Price Headley; 30 to 1.
5—High Foot, 126 lbs.; jockey, E. Ellis; owner, Thomas M. Cassidy; 15 to 1.
6—Gallant Fox, 126 lbs.; E. Sander; Blair Stud; 7 to 5.
7—Gallant Knight, 126 lbs.; jockey, H. Schutte; owner, Audley Farm; 10 to 1.

Nineteen-Year-Old English Girl Wins British Golf Title

Diana Fishwick Defeats Glena Collett 4 and 3 in Final—Thousands See Foreland Golfer in Surprise Win Over U.S. Champ

By MAUREN ORCUTT
(Copyright 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

FORMBY, Eng., May 16.—Diana Fishwick, the nineteen-year-old North Foreland girl, blonde, pretty and slender, was crowned women's British open golf champion here today when she astonished thousands of Britishers assembled to watch the thirty-six-hole final match by defeating the American champion, Glena Collett, four up and three to play.

Thus ended Glena's fourth attempt to capture the British crown, which is the only title she has not won and which she lost through poor putting on the morning round when she had five three-putts greens, besides missing short putts for halves at the second and twelfth holes, and for wins at the eleventh and seventeenth holes. Glena won only six holes of the thirty-three played.

Hundreds were in the gallery at the start of the match, but thousands collected later when word went round that the slim Diana was winning.

"I did not expect to win," said Diana after the match, "but I went out this morning with the intention of playing my own steady game."

PLAYS STEADY GAME

She certainly played her game steadily, accepting holes handed her by Glena, who was obviously suffering from severe strain of the week when she was obliged to wage fierce battles to conquer the strong British pair, Molly Goulay and Enid Wilson.

No one conceded Diana a chance to defeat Glena. The only British cup that has never been won by America was looked upon as having passed to the United States. Glena succumbed to the strain in the morning round to be five down. Brilliant play in the afternoon availed her only a lesser defeat.

Miss Fishwick's golf is not recognized as sound by the experts. She is exceedingly stiff on all shots and she plays them all, but the figures the young champion produces give the lay-sid-hole spectators a false impression of her form. From tee to green Diana was even with Glena, and on the green she was better than the American champion. However, Glena was completely off form on the first eighteen holes, scoring eighty-six to Diana's eighty.

MISSSES TWO-FOOT PUTT

In her opinion Glena's missing of a two-foot putt for a half on the fourth hole in the morning round completely destroyed her confidence in her putting. This may seem far-fetched, but after that hole Glena sank no good putts for the remainder of the round.

In the afternoon both girls played par golf, with Glena showing some of her real form, which, however, was not sufficient to make her opponent crack. Against such a steady player as Diana the handicap of five down from the morning round proved too much.

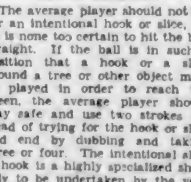

When Glena sank a ten-foot putt for a birdie four on the twenty-eighth hole to be only four down, the American team, which has stuck by her closely throughout, were cheered with the thought that she would stage one of her well-known comebacks. Glena missed an opportunity to become only three down at the thirtieth hole where Diana, after missing her drive, put her third shot over the green, but the American captain failed to take advantage of this opening by hooking her second to a trap and being too strong getting out of the hole.

GOLF AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

Do you advise a golfer to try for intentional hooks and slices? Why or why not?

Answered by ABE G. ESPINOSA

The average player should not try for an intentional hook or slice, for he is none too certain to hit the ball straight. If the ball is in such a position that a hook or a slice around a tree or other object must be played in order to reach the green, the average player should play safe and use two strokes instead of trying for the hook or slice and end by dubbing and taking three or four. The intentional slice or hook is a highly specialized shot, only to be undertaken by the very finished player.

A prominent feature of the New York market yesterday was the rise of United Aircraft from 73 7/8 to 77 1/2, at which price it closed. The appreciation was made on a report that the company had received an $8,000,000 contract from the United States Government. Deloitte also strengthened considerably, going from about 31 to 37 on the news that the court had dismissed the petition for temporary receivership.

A small volume of sales was recorded, only 2,000 shares changing hands at the session, an amount some 600,000 less than were sold on the previous day, the market showing very little strength and very little profit to be taken. Industrial averages were up 1.61, rails up .83, and utilities were unchanged. On the curb City Service rights were fairly active, closing at 13-1/2. Great West Sugar made a new low at 25, closing at 23-1/4.

A message from New York states that a large number of big traders are seizing the opportunity to take vacations, and that some of them will be away for the next month, and that altogether there is little on which to base large markets.

In the course of another very quiet day on the local oil market a flash was received from Calgary to the effect that Commonwealth, in the Red Coulee field, struck water at between 2,600 and 2,700 feet levels. The stock, which had a first sale at 42 cents, declined to 35, closing 35 cents-37 cents.

A.P.C. shaded off a little from $1.35 to $1.33, and Amalgamated from 30 to 29-1/2 cents. Calmont receded from $1.65 to $1.59. Other stocks with fewer transactions were Pabian, which sold at 8 cents and 7 cents; United at 47 cents; Home from $6.80 to $6.85, and Freehold at 54 cents. The transactions in the mines were almost negligible. Big Muskrat sold from 80 cents to 81-1/2 cents. Premier at 55 cents, Noble Five at 12 cents and 11 cents, and Snowflake at 10 cents and 10-1/2 cents.

OKALTA NO. 3
STRIKES LINE

ADD ANOTHER TURNER VALLEY WELL TO LIST OF POTENTIAL PRODUCERS

Invades Well in Extreme North Abandoned—Freehold No. 2 Blowing Line

(Miller, Court & Co., Ltd.)

CALGARY, Alta., May 16.—Another Turner Valley well has been added to the lengthy list operating in the potential production horizon, in Okalta No. 3, according to a report received from the field late yesterday. Okalta No. 3 struck the line at a depth of 3,143 feet. Eighteen casing was run and cemented, and very shortly, officials declared.

Announcement of the abandonment of the Invaders well in the extreme north end of the Turner Valley was made yesterday by officials of the company. The well is abandoned due to geological conditions, having been drilled to a depth of 4,470 feet, and having passed through the Benton formation. The company has extensive holdings both in the Turner Valley and in the Okalta No. 3 field, and its decision has been reached in regard to drilling another well.

Drilling progress is being made between the Home and Dalhousie wells in the Turner Valley. The Home No. 2, a Harvey Price, managing director of the company, stated yesterday, Mr. Price said that the well was down to a depth of 2,866 feet. He said that preparations are being made at the No. 1 well to prevent the possibility of the well flooding, providing a good gas flow is struck, following the assumption of drilling from 112 feet in the line.

Freehold No. 2 made another foot of hole yesterday in porous limestone and official reports more gas and naphtha content. Stopped drilling late in the afternoon and permitted to blow line. They will probably try to complete today.

DULL SESSION
ON BOND MART

NEW YORK, May 16.—The bond market moved uncertainly today in dull session. Prices were irregular and narrow. The demand for investment issues was light. Railroad bonds have lost some of their popularity. The market was slightly reactionary. The investment group continues to suffer from a slight attack of indecision, induced by the flood of new offerings.

Missouri Pacific 5s, Erie refunding 5s of 75 and Southern Railway 5s showed an upward trend. Light recessions were suffered by St. Paul 5s and New York Central 5s. There was a slight demand for foreign bonds, and most of them were slightly reactionary. There was no market in U.S. Governments. The only new securities were municipal issues amounting to $2,300,000.

At Toronto, Noranda, International Nickel, Mining Corp., and Ventures all showed advances. Noranda gained 10 cents from $29.50, Nickel went from $33 to $32.50, and Ventures from $14 to $14.50. KRAZY KAT

JUST LIKE A WOMAN

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Two men were making their first trip to America. On the first night out the liner picked like a chip in the big waves.

One of the travelers, going to his stateroom to retire, found his friend just getting into bed, and was astonished to note that he wore a woman's frilly nightgown and had a lace-and-ribbon-trimmed boudoir cap on his head.

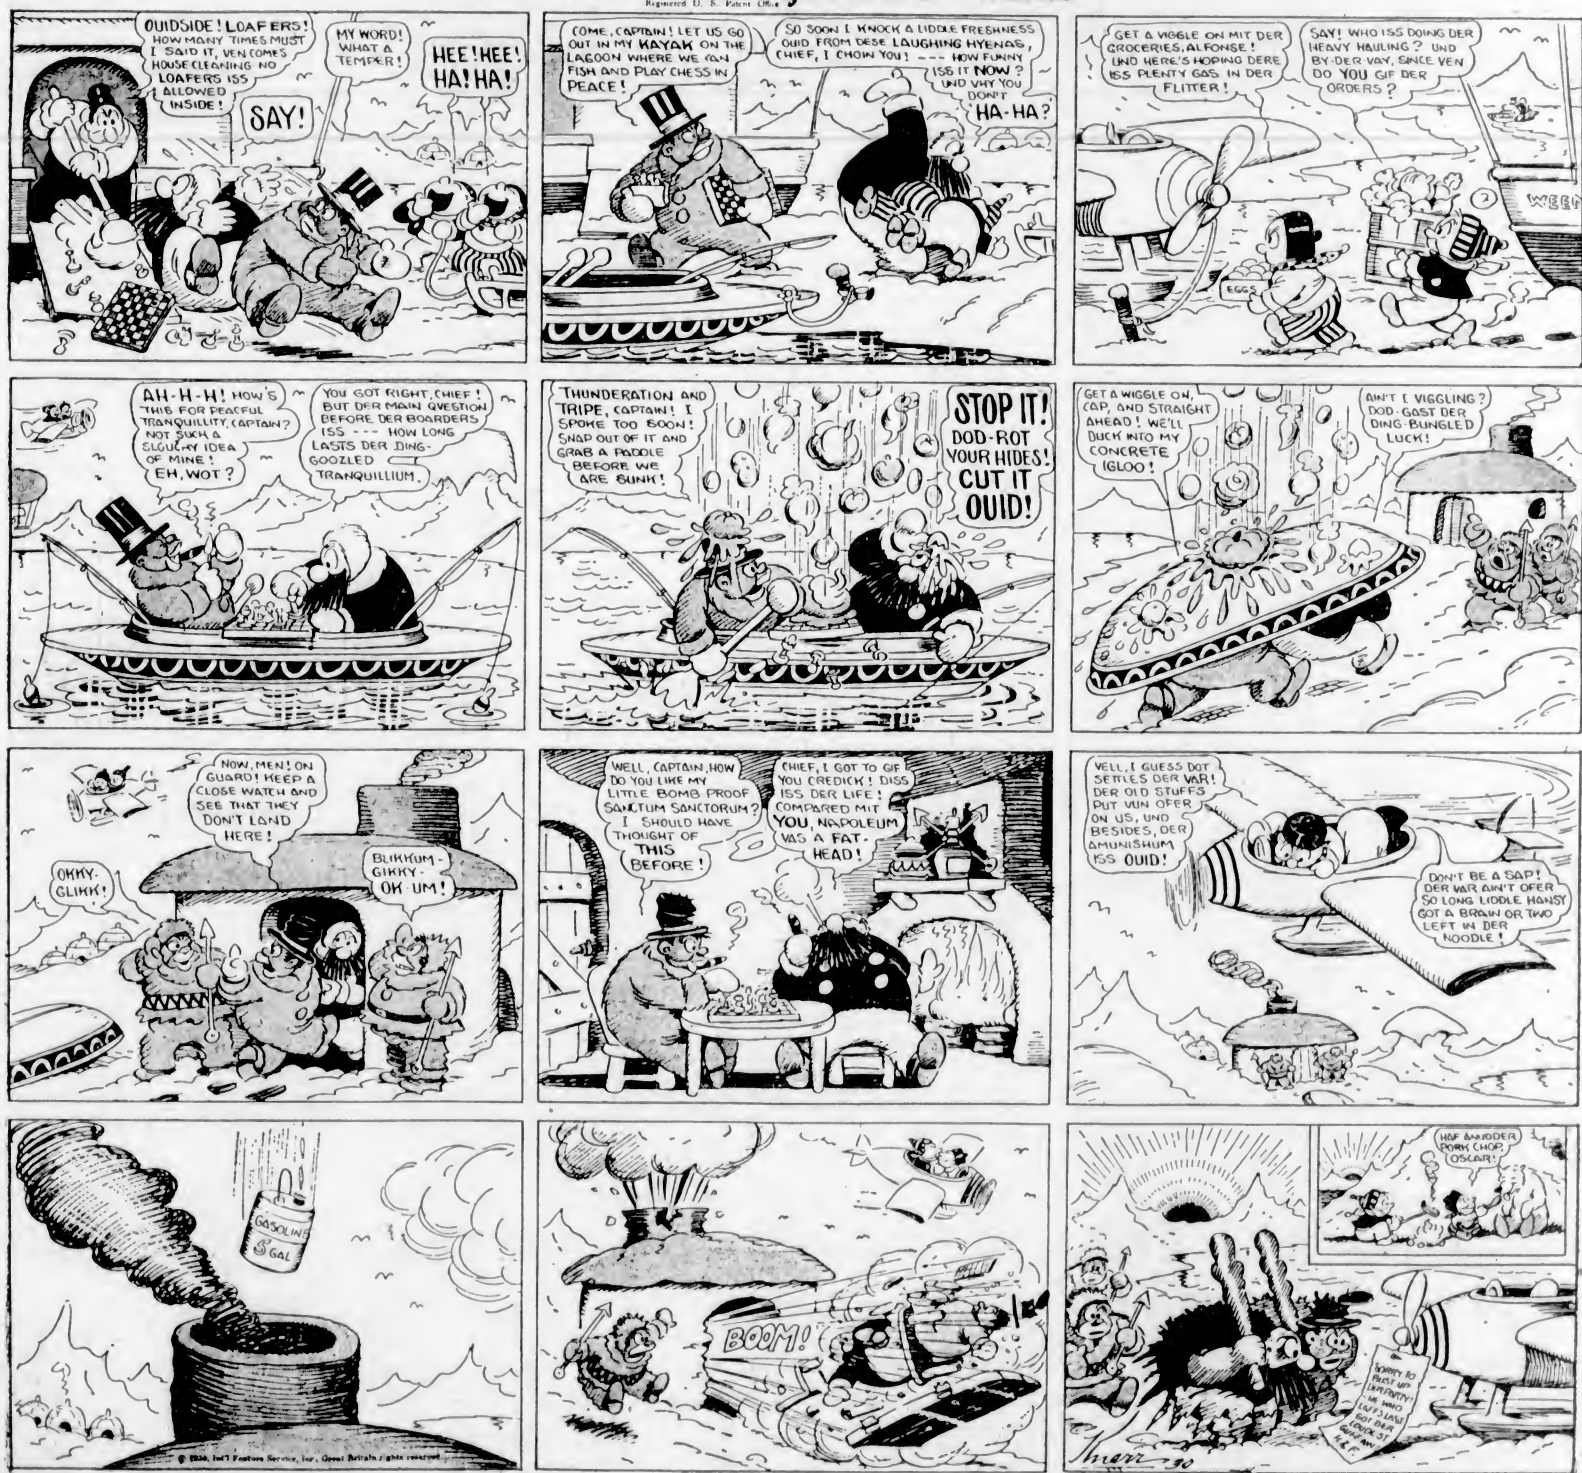

"For Heaven's sake man," he gasped, "what's the idea?"

"Well," said his friend, "don't you know the rule. In case of disaster, women and children first."
